A few words about the program

Summary :	Game show in which contestants are eliminated in a variety of crazy and outrageous ways. 8 episodes.
Concept :	Eight contestants put their nerve, general knowledge and dignity to the test in Steve Jones' explosive game show. There's a £10,000 prize for the winner, and every round sees one contestant leave the show by some of the most nerve-wracking, hair-raising, adrenaline-pumping means ever seen on TV - one moment they are delving into the darkest corners of their memory for an answer, and the next they are screaming and flying through the air attached to a 100-foot bungy cord. This is one quiz where you really don't want to get a question wrong. Assisting Steve on the incredible 101 tower, the venue for the quiz, is his co-host Nemone. Steve asks the questions and puts a comforting arm around the worried contestants, while Nemone takes great delight in putting them through increasingly horrifying, yet wonderful, ways of leaving the show.
Environment :	This program is led in by the game show "Total Wipeout" and led out by the National Lottery. It competes with athletics on BBC2, the news on ITV and Channel 4, a film on FIVE and the animation series "The Simpsons" on Sky One.
